

Go the Dragon!

Hong Kong's Champion Awards take place this Sunday.

The exciting finale brings the curtain down on Hong Kong's 2010/2011 season and honours those who have shone brightest.

With success including the G1 QEII Cup, the HK-1 Hong Kong Derby, the HK-1 Classic Cup and a record equalling count of 7 wins this term, the Tony Milliard-trained Pins' superstar Ambitious Dragon looks a serious contender for a number of categories.

Namely, Pat and Jane Lowry's homebred pins his ears back for...

- Hong Kong Horse of the Year
- Champion Middle Distance Horse (1800-2200m)
- Most Popular Horse of the Year
- Most Improved Horse

Pins on Verge of Becoming Champion Hong Kong Sire

With just one racemeeting to go and a buffer of $4,960,850, Pins is on the verge of being crowned Hong Kong's Champion Sire for 2010/2011.

All told, Pins has registered 9 winners in Hong Kong and his progeny have achieved $31,217,150 in earnings.

At the final meeting this Sunday, he will be represented by 4 runners, with not the least of these being the last start winner Smart Giant – a half-brother to our multiple G1 winner, Daffodil.

Mark's Mail

Fingers are crossed for the Ambitious Dragon team this Sunday.

He's been an amazing horse for owner Johnson Lam and trainer Tony Millard this term and the exciting thing is, he looks like he will go on with the job next season too.

Breeders Pat and Jane Lowry should also be acknowledged for their part in this success and for that matter, Bruce Perry too, having selected him out of their paddock.

Have a great weekend.

M.
